“Main akela hi chala tha jaanib-e-manzil magar,
Log saath chalte gaye kaarwan banta gaya.”

Kaarwan is the theme for Mumbai's much-loved and much-awaited Inter-Collegiate Fest, Magn 2K23-24, and what better route can there be than The Grand Trunk Road for our caravan to pass through?

Our beloved fest, Magn, needs no introduction. Since its inception in 2010, we have witnessed participation from colleges of various streams in large numbers, with footfall in the thousands. We have celebrated Magn every year with various themes that have become a benchmark for others to follow. Continuing this tradition, this year we embark on a journey through the historical stretch of the Grand Trunk Road. Formerly known as Uttarapath, Sarak-e-Azam, Shah Rah-e-Azam, Badshahi Sarak, and Long Walk, this road starts from Teknaf (Bangladesh) and passes through West Bengal, Jharkhand, Bihar, Uttar Pradesh, New Delhi, Haryana, Chandigarh, and Punjab in India, extending into Pakistan all the way to Kabul in Afghanistan. This vast and incredible coverage offered by GTR not only facilitated trade but also fostered cultural intermingling between inhabitants of diverse regions. This exchange eventually culminated in a kaleidoscopic extravaganza that remains vibrant to this day. Come, be a part of this journey.

On January 31st & February 1st, all roads lead to Magn 2K23 - 24: The Grand Trunk Odyssey.
